OSCAR WILDE'S "TAFFY"

PLEASED WITH HIS RECEPTION.

He Says Chicago Women Are Beautiful— He is Delighted with His Audience's Personal Appearance—A Contrast with Bailimore and New York in Estheticiam— But He "Cawn't" Consent to Marry Herz.

"What do I think of Chicago?" repeated Mr. Oscar Wilde to a Mouning News reporter yes-terilay. "I think it a charming city, full of in-telligent, appreciative people; and your promise of a fine audience on Monday evening was more theritay. "I think it a chapming city, full of intelligent, appreciative people; and your promise of a fine audience on Moffiay evening was more than fulfilled."

"You have also been granted a glimpse of Chicago social life, have you not!"

"More than a glimpse, sir, much more than a glimpse—a real experience, as it were, and one I shall remember very gratefully. Sorry you were not present. The assembled friends discussed the decorative in art very intelligently.

and quite agreed with me on all essential points, indeed, the hone I had the pleasure of entering contains some claborate specimens of advanced art."

"Do you think there is any hope for Chicago in the decorative in art line?"

"Do you think there is any hope for Chicago in the decorative in art line?"

"Do you think there is any hope for Chicago in the decorative in art line?"

"Do you think there is any strange as it may seem. I find everywhere intelligent people who are also rebels on the same subject, and aced only a little encouragement to give expression to their views. And this thing will to-morrow be among the foremost to adopt and aurture advanced views on the subject, and aurture advanced views on the subject."

"How will Chicago compare with New York and Boston in art matters from your standpoint!"

"More favorably than you could induce a "More favorably than you could indu

"More favorably than you could induce a New York or Boston man to believe, probably.
DI course, these two cities have advantages over Chicago in such matters, but your people here are much more appreciative, and more ready to see and take up a good thing. The tinsel and chabby nothingness of Europe seem so have no place in Chicago, while in the Atunite cities mediocre people accept them as lects—as solid realities. I have been shown sorks of art in Chicago, by local artists, fit to juace a grand salon in Paris, and what is betker, your people know it."

"Is decorative art likely to be accepted by all dasses!"

"Is decorative art likely to be accepted by all flasses,"
"Yery likely, especially when classes come to make the fact that it costs no more to have beautiful things than to have unly substitutes. It is should it not be so? Strely it does not require stupendous inducements to make people sike old mine diamonds in place of French first estimated. It never remember having pred upon an audience impress you?"
"Magnifice.ally. I never remember having pred upon an audience more handsomely and tarmoniously on seed, and I am quite positive, never saw at one time so many elegant figures and handsome faces. The other morning when four called I said Baltanore impressed me as the eaty of beautiful women, but I am now conduced Chicago is quite equal to that place. Ah, sir, why should not the beautiful mart io irish among so many beautiful people? Don't not find it quite a treat to reside in Chicago?" Well, ye. Why don't you come here youred, get married, and settle down to the enjoyment of all these beautiful things?"
"Ah, my dear fellow, I can't, you know. I save my life work before me, and must devote any entire time and attention to it."
"One of these beautiful Chicago ladies might telly you along, you know."

"One of these occurring emerge mades magneticly you along, you know."
"It is weices for me to think of such a thing, one as I would like it. I may say it is far become the realm of possibilities. I leave Chicago odday, very grateful to its good people for their dudly reception."

Mr. Wilde departed at 5 o'clock for Fort Vsyne, where he will discuss the beautiful in secrative art this evening.

THE HINSDALE MYSTERY.

w. Skeer Shows that Mr. Ransom Could Not Have Killed Himself.

Yesterday's developments in the Lake Ran-om case were not particularly startling. Durag the afternoon, Dr. Fitch received a dispatch for Hits lale, signed by Dr. Merrick, stating hat parties in Hinsdale were ready to testify hat parties in Hinsdate were ready to testry hat on Fraday night two strange men were seen raving the 7.47 train at Hinsdale, each taking a a position on opposite sades of the train.

Only here the information ceases. What became To DAV'S QUOTATIONS rmains up olved. The dispatch was immedi-

Rely taken to the central station detectives. The amount of lusurance on Mr. Ransom's tee is now claimed to be only $10,200, but acthing definite is known about it. The house & Hinsdale has been secrebed thoroughly, but w private papers found, and it is surmised the usurance policies and other important papers nan house mysterious letter. The friends of the dead man last night telegraphed the follow-ing inquiry to the Denver, Col., papers: "If M., who invited Mr. Ransom to meet Thompson Rathe Sherman house on Frinay night, he an houset in m. not concerned in Mr. Ransom's doubt, will be the joines come forward and make himself known?" At the Sherman house on Frienzy hight, be an increase one forward and make himself known?

M.s. Dr. Fitch, sister of the dead man, states positively that the gold watch presented to Mr. Ransom by the employes of D. M. Osborne & Co. was inscribed on the inner case, but the precise wording of the inscription has escaped her memory. This statement effectually clears sway the uncertainty heretofore existing as to whether or not the watch-cases were inscribed. Mrs. Fitch further states that she is ready to except the fact of her brother's death by suicide It is duly proved. All she wants is the truth of the case, whatever it may be.

The poet-morten examination of the body of Lake liansom, found dead at Hinsdale, Saturiary morning last, was conducted by Dr. J. D. Skeer, of 681 West Washington street, this city. The doctor's published card vesterday morning hypersted surprise at the suicidal clause inwrited in the coroner's verdict, and last evening he gave a Monning News reporter additional meter relating to the autopsy.

"What experience have you had with gundred of the Monning volunteers, as surgeon, and cerved during four years of the war, part of the time in charge of the Nashville, Tenn, hospital. I imagine I know something about gun-shot counds. I didn't have an opportunity to say but it desired in my card."

"What additional statement do you wish to make?"
"I would say that the pistol ball entered the left side of the head, and that if Mr. Ransom infacted the would, it was with his left hand, which would have been a very unusual thing for right-handed man to do."
"Are you positive the fractures of the skull here produced by the pistol ball?"
"No. One of the fractures may have been extrained to think it was that, or a blow inflicted by a murderer after the pistol-shot wound had been made."
"Why do you think the fracturing blow was liven after the shot!"
"For the reason that the brain had pressed out through the skull from the pistol-shot wound and was scattered on the sidewalk and eathe man's hair. This could not have happened simply from the force of the ball. It would be an impossibility."
"Did you find any other wound on the bodg?"
"No. But if there had been a wound on the left side it would have been obliterated by the fire. Evidently there was no penetration of a missile into the abdomen or thorux at that point, because 1 dissected down the cooked limb between the ribs to the plura, and then examined it carefully from the inside. The lower lobe of the left lung was cooked, and a portion of the colon descending was burned."
"In your opinion, was the fire caused by burning powder!"
"No, sir. I hold that there was not com-inflict upon himself the wounds I saw on his person. And I furthermore idil to understand how the Coroner's jury came to look upon the case as one of even possible suicide."

It was learned late last evening that Mr. Ransom's box in the First National bank has been opened and found devoid of money.

Taken Back to Her Home. J. Schmidt, father of one of the young girls who fied to Chicago from Cincinnati in company with a song-and-lance man, went back to his home last night with his child.

will your opinion, was the fire caused by burntag powder!

"No, sir. I hold that there was not combastible material enough alone in Mr. Ransom's liken shirt to have burnt up his wool clothing—like west, undercoat, overcoat, undershirt, and sast of his drawers and suspenders."

"What then?"

"Additional combustible material must have been used—perhaps a ball of cotton saturated has alcohol or gasoline. And it is scarcely probble Mr. Ransom did that."

HOULKY'S THEATER, S. 10 p. m.
The news that "Mother-in-Law" was to be crushed has produced quite a shock in the family circles of the city; large crowds of middle-aged ladies are now blocking the entrance-way, frowning at the men. Mrs. McTurtle has just come on She is received with ironical yells and screams of recognition She has just informed the unmarried daughters in the house that it is better to be sold by your mother than by your husband. Strong protests in the gallery. The house is convulsed. Sorosis very nervous. The hugging commences.
